

Dora Menti (Kythera, 1966) holds a Ph.D in Modern Greek Literature from the University of Ioannina (1991). She worked as a researcher at the Institute for Mediterranean Studies in 1993-1995 and 2001. She taught in secondary education (1991-2017) and also worked as an adjunct lecturer at the Hellenic Open University ("Studies in Greek Civilization", 2003-2011). Since 2018, she has been working as a special laboratory and teaching staff at the Department of Philology, teaching modern Greek literature. In 2019, she established the Student's Reading Club of the Faculty of Philosophy, which remains active. She has participated in Greek and international conferences and is the author of the following books:

- Μεταπολεμική Πολιτική Ποίηση. Ιδεολογία και Ποιητική [Post-War Political Poetry. Ideology and Poetics], Kedros 1995.
- Ο προσωπικός μύθος. Ένα ερμηνευτικό κλειδί στην ποίηση του Σαχτούρη [The Personal Myth in the Poetry of Miltos Sachtouris], Kastaniotis 2004.
- Πρόσωπα και προσωπεία. Εκδοχές της λογοτεχνικής ταυτότητας σε νεότερους Έλληνες ποιητές [Characters and personae. Versions of Literary Identity in Modern Greek Poets], Gutenberg, 2007.
- Η Αθήνα από τον 19ο στον 20ό αιώνα. Η μνήμη της πόλης και η σύγχρονη της λογοτεχνική αναπαράσταση [Athens from the 19th to the 20th century. The Memory of the City and its Contemporary Literary Representation], Gutenberg, 2018.
- Το γλωσσάριο των ανθέων. Ανθολογία ποιημάτων για λουλούδια εν ανθρώ έλληνι λόγω [The Glossary of Flowers. An Anthology of Poems about Flowers], Pikramenos Publications, Patras 2018.